

The Mission of McLeod Health is to improve the overall health and well being of people living within South Carolina and eastern North Carolina by providing excellence in health care.

A set of common values unites each and every person at McLeod in preserving our mission to cure and our passion to care. The McLeod Core Values include:

The Value of Caring

At McLeod Health, our professionals don't focus solely on their jobs. They embrace opportunities to respond with compassion, offering not only medical care but also personal, emotional and responsive caring to the needs of our patients.

The Value of the Person

In life's most profound moments, the people of McLeod are committed to sharing a generosity of spirit with each individual patient and cheerfully offering courtesy, resilience and respect.

The Value of Quality

For more than 100 years, McLeod has been the choice for medical excellence. Our mission requires us to have highly skilled personnel and a spectrum of advanced technology.

The Value of Integrity

We expect people who are part of the McLeod Health family to display honesty, wisdom, discipline, and an intense desire to accept the responsibility of care for patients and their families.
